

10 chambre Maison de Ville à vendre dans Torrox, Málaga

159.000€

This fabulous property is within 3 min walking distance of the main square of the white town Torrox, with shops, restaurants and local market very close by. The primary school, children's park and the local health center are also just a few minutes away.

This antique townhouse offers the rare opportunity to purchase a property with an interior distribution that would perfectly suit a B&B! Or it could be turned into a shared/leased property as well. The entire house has an abundance of traditional Andalusian features such as wooden doors and windows, kitchens, antique floor tiles, antique window bars and much more. In addition several of the rooms have attractive Juliet style balconies. And at the top of each stairway is a landing with beautiful wooden double doors inviting you in to the next rooms. So with a very gentle and respectful refurbishment of the entire property, the new owner will possess a unique jewel.

The property consists of a three-story house with a large roof terrace, with views to the sea, the new restored central town church, main square and village streets. There is currently one bathroom centrally situated at ground level. An absolutely beautiful and centrally located property which, with careful restoration with attention to all its original features, could be turned into a very successful B&B or a delightful home for a large family or into a shared house for several families.

The property can also be considered as a good investment object to be reformed to create several apartments with successful letting potential. Must be seen to be fully appreciated!.
