

Land til salgs i La Romana, Alicante

29.950€

We are proud to introduce this lovely building plot for sale to the market. The plot is nestled in a natural environment and enjoys spectacular views.

Located in Algayat area and very close to the charming village of La Romana, where you will find all what you need for your day a day living.

As it is a plot located in rustic soil, you can occupy 2% of the total surface of the plot for the construction of your house. Ground floor plus first floor is allowed, with a maximum height of 7 meters. A distance of 10 meters must be respected from the location of the house to the adjacent plots.

A light point has been requested from the electrical company. The water has to be through a tank. We have a plot plan available, so if you would like us to provide more information or would like to visit, just contact us.
