

5 bedroom Country House for sale in Loja, Granada

375,000€

This wonderful property sits just a two minute drive from Estacion de Salinas which offers local stores, bars and restaurants and just over 10 minutes to Archidona with great access to the motorway for exploring the provinces of Cordoba, Malaga and Granada in Andalucia, Spain. The property sits off a pretty track with a stream running close by adding to the spectacular scenery and ideal for rural tourism. A gated entrance opens to a beautifully landscaped courtyard garden with established planting including plenty of fruit trees, a private pool and places to sit and relax or dine alfresco with friends and family. The main property is full of character and is divided horizontally in to two separate apartments with the ground floor consisting of a good size lounge diner with large open fire and country style kitchen which continues to a full family bathroom and two double bedrooms. On the first floor a beautiful covered terrace which looks over the whole garden leads in to a 3 bedroom apartment with a full family bathroom, cosy lounge with log burner and spacious country style kitchen. Attached to this main building is another room currently used as storage which is around 50m² and could easily be converted in to a ground floor studio apartment. Across the garden is a large storage / animal house which runs the length of the land and could be used as a workshop or stables consisting of over 380m² this property which is already very beautiful has many more possibilities for a large family or someone looking to run a retreat or just rural getaways, must be seen to be appreciated.
