

Unique Cortijo Villa

Set in the picturesque Sierra Cabrera mountains with panoramic views of the Sierra Cabrera mountains, this villa was built in 1900 and extended in 2010. Approaching through a private driveway, the villa's terraced gardens create a serene atmosphere.

Inside, the villa provides spacious living areas with a large open fireplace, ideal for cosy gatherings. The expansive sitting-dining room with a view of the mountains is served by filtered water, while two sets of patio doors lead to a covered porch. Upstairs, the villa offers a large double bedroom and abundant storage on the landing, ensuring convenience.

Outside, terraced gardens are filled with mature plants, creating a functional, adding to the cortijo's unique charm. A swimming pool while mobile air conditioning / heating units and fly screens. In this location, historic character, and updated amenities, this villa offers Andalusian style with modern-day living.
